Wind turbine will 'take cash from the poor'

A UKIP councillor has joined the fight against a wind turbine being built on farmland outside Haverhill.

The controversial application, which was first entered by farmer James Sills in February this year, has received more than 30 objections from nearby residents, neighbouring parish councils and the National Air Traffic Services (NATS).

Mr Sills hopes to build a 78m high turbine at Nosterfield End, as well as a substation, hardstanding and access track.

Cllr Julian Flood, who holds one of the county seats for Haverhill Cangle ward, has branded the proposal a way to "move money from the poor to the rich".

At Haverhill Town Council's planning committee meeting, held on Tuesday, he said: "They must minimise waste and maximise low carbon development. The application does not show either of those things."

"They stop working when the wind doesn't blow and they make energy so expensive that elderly people in this country die of hypothermia because they can't afford their energy bills."

DEBRA FOX

NATS said in their response that the turbine could potentially have an affect on radars from Heathrow, Gatwick, Stansted which could force planes to go off course.

They concluded that the risk was too serious and impossible to ignore.

Concerns have also been put forward about the visual impact of the turbine for the surrounding homes and buildings and the noise pollution it will create.

Cllr Betty McLatchy said that the number of complaints from those living near the site show that the turbine could "put off" potential investors from moving to the area if it is built.

The proposed site itself is surrounded by listed buildings – though no objection has been made by English Heritage.

Town Mayor Cllr Roger Andre said that these buildings cannot be ignored simply because they are not directly on the site.

He said: "They will have their views affected by this mast. They think they can escape by not building in the grounds of the listed buildings.

"They have to prove the benefit to the community, and the application states that the benefit to local people is marginal at best."

The plan was last put to the town council in April, when they raised a number of objections to be dealt with, including further consultation with the public.

The council's planning committee also asked that a number of technical questions relating to the measurements of the turbine be addressed to aid the decision-making process.

None of them have been responded to.

The final decision on the turbine will be made by St Edmundsbury Borough Council at a later date.

In May this year, the council granted Mr Sills permission to build a 78m wind turbine at Chilton Street, in Clare. To view the full plans visit www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk

SUCCESS: Lucy Chatton and Emilia Edwards jump for joy after picking up their results at Castle Manor Academy

GCSE results day delight

STUDENTS from Castle Manor Academy are celebrating GCSE success today.

An outstanding 98 per cent of pupils achieved five or more A* to C grades across the board while 52 per cent scored an A* to C in five or more subjects including English and maths. These achievements show a 12 per cent increase on the academy's results from last year.

Acting head Vanessa Whitcombe is proud of the best results the academy has ever seen. She also thanked staff and parents for supporting the students during their work.

For more on GCSE results, see our website:

Schoolgirl's mission to help all creatures great and small

A KIND-hearted schoolgirl has collected approximately 60,000 stamps in order to help animals at a local zoo.

Earlier this year, animal-mad Nadia Meftah, 9, made it her mission to collect as many stamps as she could for Linton Zoo.

Nadia, from Coveney, decided she wanted to support the zoo's stamp collection service, which enables it to trade in used stamps for money.

Nadia appealed to readers of the News to donate their unwanted stamps and just four months later, she has handed over around 60,000 stamps.

Her mum, Leah, said: "We would like to thank everyone who has supported Nadia, it's been quite overwhelming."

To donate more stamps, call Leah on 07545 591220.

ANIMAL LOVER: Nadia Meftah, 9, hands over just some of the 60,000 stamps she has collected for Linton Zoo to keeper Mickey Peck. They are pictured inside one of the zoo's lemur enclosures.

Good health advice on the market

SPEND market day learning more about your health service.

The West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) are setting up camp across town markets in the region to educate residents about health services.

The CCG staff will also be on hand to talk about local healthcare, healthy living advice and dole out health-related freebies to take home.

Jo Finn, patient and public engagement lay member of the NHS West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group, said: "One of the main priorities of the CCG is to talk with the people we serve so we know how future healthcare services should be shaped to meet local needs."

"These market stall events are a great way to talk with people and listen to their ideas."

The stall will come to Haverhill's Peas Market Hill on Friday, September 12 from 8.30am until 4.30pm.

The group will also visit Newmarket, Bury St Edmunds and Mildenhall during their tour.

Stalker loses appeal over court sentence

A HAVERHILL man who was convicted of harassing a woman in the town has lost his appeal against his sentence.

Nigel Proctor, 44, of Girton Road, was handed a six-week sentence, suspended for 12 months, for harassing Kelly Shurety.

He was also given a lifelong restraining order.

The 44-year-old was appealing his sentence, imposed by magistrates in April, because he thought Mrs Shurety was exaggerating what happened.

Mrs Shurety said in her evidence that Proctor, who has a previous conviction for stalking a 13-year-old schoolgirl, parked near to her workplace, in Norton Road, three times a week.

He would walk up to the door of the pharmacy to look inside, and also watched her through binoculars.

Mrs Shurety said: "I was so shocked because you don't expect anyone to be staring at you through a pair of binoculars."

"I am still gobsmacked to this day that anyone would think it was OK to do that."

She confronted Proctor at the car on November 30 last year, and he denied he was doing anything wrong.

Work colleagues said that he shouted at her and said: "You are bang out of order."

When police searched Proctor's car they found a length of rope, sticky tape, a hammer and clothing in the boots. The binoculars were in the glove box.

John Livingston, defending Proctor, accused Mrs Shurety of putting a "sinister slant" on the allegations after reading of Proctor's previous convictions.

Proctor insisted he had to visit the pharmacy regularly to pick up medication for his elderly mother and that he was not parked there up to three times a week.

He said the binoculars were for watching horseracing and cricket, and that the rope and clothing were for driving in bad weather.

The hammer and sticky tape were still in the car from a decorating job, the 44-year-old claimed.

Mr Recorder Ian Glen QC sat with two magistrates at Ipswich Crown Court to hear the case on Monday.

Broadcast makes more than £1k

A PAIR of teenage radio presenters attempted a world record to raise money for Help for Heroes.

Daniel Bell and Callum Sutton, both 16, used their radio skills and own station Ignite Radio to broadcast for 76 hours and eight minutes.

The duo went live from 6pm on August 13 until 9pm on August 16 and have raised a whopping £1,010.06 so far for their chosen charity - with money left to come in.

Daniel and Callum now have to endure weeks of waiting before they find out if their broadcast from the Days Inn, Phoenix Road, Haverhill, will make it into the record books. Visit justgiving.com/75hourradio

Have your say on town transport in new survey

THE community are being given a chance to comment on the future transport plans for Haverhill's town centre.

Suffolk County Council have launched a survey online to encourage others to share their views on Haverhill's future.

The council plans to use the survey's input in a workshop – to be attended by representatives of local organisations and groups.

Responses received by Thursday, September 5, will go into the workshop and the outcome of the session will be revealed in the town's market square on September 14.

The survey asks participants about walking and cycling in the centre as well as the taxi and bus services available and the main change they think the town centre needs.

Blossoming talent goes on display at annual show

KEEN florists from across the county flocked to Haverhill to compete in an annual show.

The Haverhill and District Flower Club opened its event on Friday, August 16 at Haverhill Arts Centre.

The club welcomed entrants from across the town, as well as Ipswich, Bury St Edmunds, Stowmarket, Mildenhall and Saffron Walden.

There were 25 competitors in total taking part in 41 exhibits.

There were also around 1,000 visitors over the weekend.

This year's winners were chosen by Lionel Clarke, an accredited judge for the National Association of Flower Arrangement Societies.

Susan Street, of Steeple

Bumpstead, took home the prizes for best in show and runner-up. She has been a member of the club for more than 10 years.

This is the ninth year that the show has been held, and it was a very special one for the club which is celebrating its golden anniversary.

After 50 years of success

secretary Valerie Phillips said:

"It went very well and we weren't expecting so many people. It certainly was more popular this year."

"The show has now been going for so long that people do know about it."

Valerie said that without the help of Haverhill Town Council, the show would not carry on.

Film work to go on US TV channel in autumn

A DOCUMENTARY shot by a Haverhill man is going to be broadcast across America.

Mark Allard, of Landseer Court, released We Run These Streets in October 2011.

The film is about parkour and freerunning techniques, and is set to be splashed across Blackbelt TV – a dedicated martial arts TV channel – in October this year.

Mark, 26, works as Operations Manager in Haverhill's Cineworld, on Ehringhausen Way. He has been filming in his spare time since 2007.

The filmmaker said: "It's so exciting that this film that not just myself, but all the cast involved, put so much effort and passion in to is going to be broadcast in the United States."

"It's empowering to know one of my films will be broadcast on TV, but equally as exciting to realise that no-budget parkour filmmaking is starting to make an impact on American sports broadcasting."

School's garden will bloom again!

FRUIT trees and seeds have been donated to a school garden after vandals ripped it apart.

A generous offer from gardening company Mr Fothergill's promises to transform the fruit and vegetable garden at Burton End Primary School back into a place of beauty.

The garden, on School Lane, Haverhill, was created by the school's students two years ago.

Careless criminals tore their way through the area between the evening of Saturday, July 27, and the next morning, pulling up apple trees and picnic benches.

The vegetable plants planted by the pupils were also destroyed.

The school's caretaker discovered the wreckage on the Sunday morning and notified police.

Without the kindness of Mr Fothergill's, the schoolchildren would have returned in

DEBRA FOX

September to find their hard work ruined.

Burton End Headteacher Fay Trussler was overwhelmed by the company's offer.

She said: "We are just very grateful for the generosity and kindness they've shown to us."

The company plans to supply the school with an assortment of vegetable and herbs seeds, plus a few fruit trees to replace those damaged.

John Fothergill, joint managing director of Mr Fothergill's, said:

"We were upset to learn what had happened to the school garden, especially after the children had put so much effort into growing their own fruit and vegetables."

"We can't make up the time they have lost on the project, but we can help a little by donating a selection of vegetable seeds and a fruit tree or two to help them get started again.

"We believe it is important for young people to appreciate how food is produced – and there is no better way than growing their own."

PC Will Wright, of Haverhill police, was investigating the incident.

The officer had previously described the vandalism as a rampage – and an attack that was unfair on primary school pupils who would not understand what happened, and why their garden had been trashed.

He said: "It's good to see and feel a bit of humanity and that people do actually care."

If you have any information about what happened at Burton End contact Haverhill Police on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Community recruited to name new care home

A NEW care home will have its place cemented in the community as Care UK invites residents to pick its name.

Construction on the town's new care home, at the old Chalkestone middle school site on Millfields Way, will begin in October.

Opening is scheduled for autumn 2014 when an estimated 60 older people will take up residence.

Chris Hopkinson, regional operations director at Care UK, said he hopes entrants will be inspired by the town's history and make an individual choice.

All ideas are welcome.

The top entry will receive a Love2Shop voucher worth £100.

Submit your name choice by midnight on September 20 to www.careuk.com/giveourhomedaname.

The final decision will be made in October.

BURGLARY: Police have released e-fits of the first two men who entered the house

Bogus workers take cash, ring and watch from elderly man

A WATCH worth £300 and an engagement ring have been stolen from a man in his eighties.

The victim, who lives in Crowland Road, Haverhill, answered his door on Wednesday, August 7, to a young man who claimed he was there to check the water.

He led the suspect through his home to the kitchen where he turned on the cold tap to let the water run through to see if there was any "blue" in the supply.

After that, a second man came into the kitchen and said the water in the downstairs bathroom needed to be checked too.

The two suspects followed the pensioner into the bathroom to run the taps and check the flush of the toilet before trying to leave.

A third man, described as aged 20 or 21 and around 6ft tall was then seen coming down the stairs.

The victim then realised he had been duped.

The trio escaped with £400 in cash as well as the white man's watch, which is engraved, and the £200 engagement ring – which has three blue stones inset.

The man who knocked on the door is said to be 18 or 19 years old and had brown hair.

He is about 5ft 8 inches tall and was wearing green coloured trousers and a top and a green peaked cap with a logo on the front. He also carried a walkie talkie.

The second man is estimated to be between 25 and 30, 6ft tall and with short, light-coloured hair.

He was wearing dark trousers and a dark coloured jumper.

The third man wore black trousers, a black top and a dark coloured peak cap.

All three men were white, of slim build and spoke with local accents.

Police have release composite images of what they believe the first two men could look like and are urging the public to come forward.

Contact Bury St Edmunds CID on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111 if you think you have any information about the incident.

The waiting is over ... the celebrations begin!

DEBRA FOX

STUDENTS across Haverhill have been celebrating this week after receiving A-level results.

Castle Manor Academy, on Eastern Avenue, were delighted that 66 per cent of the A-level exams taken were graded between A* and C – and 94 per cent of students passed their exams overall.

The school had 55 year 13 pupils this year, an increase on the 32 from 2012, and 94 per cent of those who applied for university courses have had their places confirmed.

Vanessa Whitcombe, acting head of school, said last Thursday: "The results that students are collecting today mark the end of a period of extremely hard work by students and staff.

"They will provide a passport for many to access university courses and others to begin the next stage of their lives in employment or embarking on an exciting new apprenticeship."

Mariah Fera got an A and two Bs and is going on to study English and American Literature at UEA in Norwich.

She said: "I'm really happy. I couldn't have asked for better.

"It's really exciting to know where I'm going."

Mariah wants to write novels in the future, and is excited to get the opportunity to study creative writing too.

Lesley Cuasay got an A* in art and design, A in photography, A in extended project and B in psychology and complete a foundation degree in art. Her plans have now changed.

She said: "I want to go into medicine and I'd love to be a pediatric nurse."

Lesley, who lives near the Parkway in Haverhill, is applying for an internship in Addenbrooke's in September.

Twin brothers Andrew and Mark are both heading to Loughborough University to study sport and exercise science – after scoring nearly identical results in the same subjects.

The pair scooped As in biology and PE – and Andrew beat his brother by one grade, taking an A* in psychology while Mark got an A.

The brothers, of Abbotts Road, have nearly always scored the same marks.

Mark said: "When we started A-levels all the exams we had done would get the same marks.

"I'm really pleased with what I have got."

Samuel Ward Academy, on Chalkstone Way, had a successful results day too, with every student passing their A-level exams.

A total of 74 per cent of pupils scored between

A* and C. Some of the highest scoring subjects across the board included English Language, English Literature and media studies.

Vocational studies were also highly graded, and half of the students who studied BTEC IT were rewarded with grade As.

Mrs Senior, head of sixth form at Samuel Ward, said the outstanding results showed how hard her pupils had worked.

She said: "These results are testimony to the hard work of the students and their teachers, as well as the support and encouragement of their parents.

"I'm really happy for them, especially as almost all of them have the grades that they need to go on to university."

Lauren Sullivan, of Victoria Road, and Amy Hull, of Vetch Walk, both exceeded expectations and secured places at their chosen universities.

Lauren, 18, is heading to Kent to study English Language and linguistics after receiving an A in English Language, B in geography and a distinction* in IT.

She said: "I'm ecstatic. I'm so happy and my results are better than I ever expected. I can't wait to go to uni in September."

Amy is going to Anglia Ruskin next month to start her training to become an optician.

After receiving two As and a B, she can't wait to start work in the autumn. Amy said: "I am so excited about it and so happy."

FAMILY PORTRAIT: Paula and Kevin Roskilly pictured with daughter Isabelle and Brody.

Family delight as wandering Brody returns home

WHEN a Haverhill family's pet cat went missing 18 months ago, they thought they would never see him again.

They pounded pavements, knocked on doors and put up posters, but in the end had to accept that they would never see their lovable Ginger tom again.

So they couldn't believe their eyes when four-year-old Brody wandered back into their lives last week.

Brody disappeared in January 2012 from the family's home in St Botolphs Way, Haverhill, and owners Kevin and Paula Roskilly and daughter Isabelle were devastated.

Mr Roskilly, 39, said: "He went missing shortly after we had our baby girl.

"We searched for him and put up posters and because we heard nothing there was still a little bit of hope that he would come back.

"Then the other day I got up for breakfast and there he was in the garden.

"He looks well – a bit underfed – but average really. It's great to have him home."

Last week the Weekly News reported that grey and white cat Freddie had gone missing from Falklands Road on August 10.

He too returned home safely last week to owners Kate and Evie Marlow.

Mr Roskilly said: "The fact that Brody came home should give hope to people who have had cats go missing."

Mr and Mrs Roskilly got Brody, and his brother, Hooper, from the Cats Protection League in 2008.

Neither of them had ever gone missing before.

The family are over the moon to have Brody back.

"I don't know if Hooper is so happy to have him back though," said Kevin. "He's probably thinking 'this is my place now' but I just couldn't believe my eyes.

"Paula had tears in her eyes and Isabelle is learning to say his name – but we need to teach her to stop pulling his ears."

Mrs Roskilly, 32, said the worst thing about Brody going missing was not knowing what had happened.

She said: "I always felt he couldn't have gone, but I didn't expect him to come back.

"It was hard wondering if something had happened to him, or if someone had taken him.

"It was the not knowing that was the worst bit."

She said that Brody is an inquisitive cat, and the family think he might have crawled into someone's van and gone off somewhere.

Both cats were micro-chipped before, but the pair have been treated to brand new collars in case either of them fancies a wander again.

Laptop and Kindle stolen in house burglary

A LAPTOP and Kindle have been stolen from a Haverhill home.

The items were taken from a property in Horsham Close on Friday, August 16.

The Advent laptop, the Kindle in a brown case and cash were stolen between 12.30am and 4.15am.

An attempt was also made to enter a home on Downs Crescent at the same time.

The window of the home was opened and a blind moved before a dog at the property started to bark and scared away the perpetrators.

A vehicle was then heard being driven away at speed.

The incidents happened after a spate of eight night-time burglaries in the town over a period of six weeks.

Police are urging residents to keep their windows and doors securely locked at night.

Call Haverhill police on 101.

Come and join us for a girls' night out!

ST NICHOLAS Hospice Care would like to invite readers to join in with the fifth Girls Night Out moonlight walk on 14 September. The women-only walk offers two routes - 11.2 and six miles - through Bury St Edmunds. In addition to a lovely evening walk, we can promise participants a great atmosphere and an awful lot of fun! This year we are asking women to wear their favourite nightwear (and comfiest walking shoes) to ensure Girls Night Out 2013 is the biggest pyjama party the town has ever seen.

All funds raised by the challenge will help to ensure St Nicholas Hospice Care can continue to offer its vital services to those suffering life-shortening illnesses in and their families and carers. In addition to an inpatient ward the Hospice offers care at home through our Community Hospice Team, support and befriending through the Hospice Neighbours service and day therapy at the Orchard Centre, as well as complementary therapies and bereavement support.

Last year, Girls Night Out walkers raised £100,000 and this year we hope to raise even more. Please be a part of it and join more than 850 women who have already registered to take part. We welcome women aged 14 upwards and of all abilities (Girls Night Out is not a race), while you can register to walk on your own - we promise you will not feel lonely - or as part of a team.

Registration costs £15 including a T-shirt to wear on the night. We will also send you a registration pack full of tips and fundraising ideas and supply you with a tasty bacon roll (or vegetarian alternative) and hot chocolate at the end of the walk.

For more information, go to www.stnicholashospicecare.org.uk, call 01284 715583 or email jenny.baskett@stnh.org.uk I look forward to hearing from you. Jenny Baskett

A day of cricketing fun

HUNDREDS flocked to Haverhill Cricket Club and enjoyed a sporting event.

The annual corporate cricket event was held on August 15 and boasted a match between Haverhill XI and Overseas XI.

The Haverhill team lost the game by five runs.

The 400 guests also enjoyed a champagne reception and a sit down lunch hosted by comedian Jed Stone.

The day's guest speaker was chairman of England Selectors and ex-England cricketer Geoff Miller, who was able to attend between the summer's two Ashes fixtures.

Organiser Greg Street said: "Everyone had a good day and it all went well.

"I think the Overseas lads went into Cambridge and didn't come back until six in the morning.

"They said it was one of the best club events they had ever been to – so that was the feather in our cap."

Doctor gets a formal warning

A GP who admitted prescribing excessive quantities of inhalers to a patient has been warned about his future conduct.

Dr Andrew Sanger Bowen appeared before the Medical Practitioners Tribunal Service (MPTS) in relation to misconduct while he was a doctor at Christmas Maltings Surgery in Camps Road, Haverhill, between August 2007 and December 2011.

While the panel found Dr Bowen's fitness to practise was not impaired, they decided it was necessary to place a warning on his registration after he admitted that acting as a GP for an unnamed female patient was inappropriate and that he failed to make adequate notes on that patient's treatment.

Dr Bowen also admitted to excessive prescription of bronchodilator and qvar steroid inhalers, as well as two other drugs.

However, he was cleared of failing to refer the same patient to another GP for assessment of her respiratory problems.

Panel chairman, Prof Stephen Miller, said: "You acted inappropriately by performing the role of patient A's GP.

"In that role you proceeded to manage her complex medical condition and to prescribe a range of medication which, although clinically indicated, was excessive in quantity.

"You have also admitted failing to make appropriate entries in patient A's medical records.

"You performed this inappropriate role over a period of several years, and there were times when you lost the objectivity and independence necessary to ensure that she received optimal care.

"You have accepted that your actions were not always in her best interests. The panel has heard that, in relation to your prescribing, there was a risk – albeit a small one – of harmful side effects arising from over-prescription."

A formal warning about Dr Bowen's conduct has now been published on the list of registered medical practitioners and will remain for five years.

DRINK UP: The Woolpack on Queen Street has been totally refurbished.

The Woolpack reopens after refurbishment

FRIDAY night was back to business as usual for one Haverhill pub celebrating a re-opening. The Woolpack, on Queen Street, has been taken over by a family of five and refurbished. After being closed for three weeks, the public were welcomed back in on Friday, August 16. Landlady Tracey Collingwood said: "We have always lived in the town and when the Woolpack became available we went for it."

Tracey, husband Adrian, and grown up daughters Ellie, Poppy and Annie are gearing up to turn the pub into the town's place to be. The Woolpack started its food service yesterday, including sandwiches, burgers and homemade dishes. Tables can also be pre-booked and meals can be pre-ordered. Call 01440 707105 for more information.

Man admits online activity with girl, 14

A MAN has pleaded guilty to enticing a young girl online.

Steven Mason, 24, of Wortham Place, Haverhill, had a number of exchanges with someone he believed to be a 14-year-old girl living outside of the UK. Mason asked her to touch herself indecently and provide pictures for him. Police seized a computer belonging to the 24-year-old in September 2012 and discovered evidence of him talking to someone he thought was a 14-year-old girl.

DEBRA FOX

Robert Sadd, prosecuting, said: "The risk he took and was prepared to take was that it was a 14-year-old girl." Mason pleaded guilty to an offence of attempting to incite sexual activity with a child on Monday, August 19, at Ipswich Crown Court. Jacob Edwards, mitigating, told the court that Mason, who has no previous conviction for any similar offences, hasn't committed any further crimes since his arrest.

He said: "It is an unusual situation where there has been no face to face contact and the crown cannot say whether it was an offence against a 14-year-old or not." Judge John Devaux also hailed the case as unusual as the girl could not be traced. Mason has been banned from working with children, ordered to pay £350 in costs and sign onto the sex offenders register for five years.

Call for marshals to help at hospice event

A HOSPICE is calling for volunteers to help at an annual event. St Nicholas Hospice Care want marshals to take part in Girls Night Out on September 14 in Bury St Edmunds. Marshals are needed to ensure to the hundreds of women who take part complete the route safely. Jenny Baskett, Hospice Events and Challenge Fundraiser, said: "Many of our marshals thoroughly enjoy themselves and return to help each year. "We already have 60 volunteers this year, but we need at least 50 more." Marshals would be required between 7pm and midnight on September 14 and would also provide encouragement for weary walkers. Anyone interested in becoming a volunteer marshal contact 01284 715583 or jenny.baskett@

Summer fun in the sunshine

A TOWN residents' association held a fun day yesterday for all of the family to enjoy. St Edmundsbury Borough Council, Haverhill Town Council and Parkway Residents Association took over Haverhill's rugby club from 11am until 3pm. They kitted out the area with a rodeo bull, balloonist and trampoline to entertain the children. Visitors could also try their luck at a raffle. The highlight of the day was for the Little Legends under-eights football team, who received their new strip courtesy of the associations' hard work. See next week's paper for more.

jazzercise®

Why choose Jazzercise over other dance exercise programs?

- Jazzercise is led by instructors trained specifically for their program who are monitored annually to maintain standards
- Classes provide a good cardio workout.
- Newcomers are welcome, regardless of fitness level or dance ability.
- Moves can be modified based on your ability and fitness level.
- No special clothes are required, just comfortable workout clothes.
- Instructors give a lot of verbal cues explaining new moves when needed.
- Moves are choreographed specifically for each piece of music and new material is regularly introduced so classes stay fresh
- There is a wide variety of music - pop radio hits, country, Latin, jazz, etc.
- All the major muscle groups (legs, arms, abs and glutes) get specific attention in each class
- Injury prevention is stressed through instruction about proper body alignment during various moves, especially during the strength training.

Computer thief must now work more hours

A THIEF who stole thousands of pounds worth of computers from a school has had his community service hours increased.

Alexander Hazel, 22, was given a six months suspended prison sentence and 200 hours of community service in June for pinching six laptops from Stour Valley Community School in Cavendish Road, Clare.

Ipswich Crown Court heard on August 15 that Hazel has so far completed nine hours of work, and has not turned up to two sessions scheduled by the probation service.

He admitted being in breach, but said that because he was working long hours to pay off debts he could not do the unpaid work too. The 22-year-old has now had 20 hours added to his total.

Hazel was working at the school in August last year when he stashed six of the laptops in a portable storage building, planning to return for them the next day.

Three of the brand new laptops were recovered but the others, worth £1,806 were never found. Ms Recorder Patricia Lynch QC said: "You can't just ignore these orders. The repercussions will be serious if you do."

Dancers stay en pointe

A PROUD teacher is celebrating another year of success at her dance school.

Alison Law opened the Ballet Shoe Workshop in 1992 and started off with 10 pupils.

Now, more than 20 years later she has 110 students on the books, aged between 3 and 24, and has just received a set of impressive exam results to round off a jam-packed year.

Alison, 44, of Helions Park Avenue, Haverhill, teaches ballet and freestyle at Hundon Village Hall on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

She said: "Most of the time you don't really think about how long has passed."

"I know it's an achievement to make it 21 years but you don't ever think about it – it's really crept up on me."

Between them, Alison's pupils sat 192 exams over two days in June this year.

All of them passed with highly commended, honours, merit or distinction – the highest pass grades possible.

Among the stars were senior pupils Katie Goodall, Ellen Walker and Aston Rodwell who all passed their Student Freestyle exam, which gives them the qualification to teach.

Alison's daughter Stephanie, 17, was also due to sit the test, but had to drop out due to injury.

The 44-year-old teacher said that dancing is the perfect tonic for children – regardless of whether or not they want to pursue it professionally.

"It's a great discipline for children and the taking of the exams can give such a sense of achievement," she said.

"You see the children at 3 when they are really nervous and watch them progress and become more confident."

For more information on the Ballet Show Workshop call Alison on 07821197107 or email balletshoeworkshop@yahoo.co.uk.

Lessons will resume in September and preparations will start for the Christmas show, to be held at Castle Manor Academy.

ON A MISSION: Anna and Ted Fairhead spent two weeks involved in tracking and monitoring the movements of rhinos and learning more about the area that they live in. They now want to raise as much money as they can to help protect them

Dream holiday inspires couple to help rhinos

A HOLIDAY of a lifetime paints a different picture for a lot of people.

But getting up close and personal with rhinos in the South African bush was just the ticket for Anna and Ted Fairhead.

The husband and wife, of Hill Farm, West Wickham, jetted off in January this year after coming across a trip offered by Rhino Mercy – an organisation supporting anti-poaching.

Anna said: “My husband I have been going through to South Africa for our winter holidays.

“We usually hire a 4x4 and travel around but we thought we would do something different. I found some volunteer projects and this one sounded really interesting.”

The couple, who are both in their fifties, spent two weeks involved in tracking and monitoring the movements of the animals and learning more about the area that they live in.

Anna said that the organisation are working to protect the rhinos on a shoestring budget, and that they need the help they can get to protect the species from poachers.

She said: “I am a great animal person but I had no idea just how valuable the rhinos are, and the poachers are so dangerous.

“They are having to go to some lengths to protect the rhinos here.”

The animals are poached for their horns, which are used in alternative medicines. Despite these therapies not being successful, the rhinos are still at risk.

The fencing between Greater Kruger National Park and a neighbouring park in Mozambique has fallen down, and this has allowed poachers to sneak through the gap and kill the animals.

The couple were so inspired by what they saw in South Africa, they decided to hold a rhino-themed party to raise as much money as they can for the cause.

The event will take place at Thurlow Barns on Friday, September 6, from 7.30pm and will include a presentation from the charity and the chance to take home a fantastic range of auction prizes including holidays, football tickets and a golf day.

Anna and Ted's fundraising work will go towards paying for a Drone – an eye in the sky aircraft used to track the movements of poachers.

Anna said: “We would love to raise something like £10,000 but that's a lot of money. We just need to try and raise as much as possible.”

NEWS IN BRIEF

Speed patrols under way

COUNTYWIDE speed patrols are taking place across Suffolk this week.

An increased number of checks are taking place in known speeding areas.

The campaign will run until Sunday, August 25.

Inspections are also taking place across Norfolk.

Water tank stolen from site

TWO bald men are being hunted after a 250 gallon water bowser was stolen.

The theft happened between 4pm on August 5 and 8am on August 6.

The tank was taken from a building site off the A1307 at Withersfield.

Witnesses saw the two men hanging around near to the barriers of the site.

Both are white and one was wearing a white checked shirt and the other a black top.

Call Haverhill police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Officers to get mental health help

HEALTH specialists and police officers have joined forces to better understand dementia.

The partnership was formed to improve the services given to missing people who suffer from the illness.

Search plans for people with dementia can now be drawn up to assist in understanding why they go missing, where they could go, and how they will react to being approached.

New green skills for workers

UNEMPLOYED plumbers, heating engineers and electricians from Suffolk are getting the chance to improve their job prospects.

The workers can take part in a scheme to learn green skills from National Skills Academy for Environmental Technologies and Jobcentre Plus.

Energy saving techniques will be given to the workers in a bid to help them get back into work by staying environmentally friendly.

Explore an apprenticeship

TEENS in Suffolk are being encouraged to sign up for apprenticeships to shape their future.

Cancer charity road trip arrives in town

CANCER SUPPORT: The Macmillan mobile

A SUPPORT service for cancer patients and their families arrived in Haverhill for the first time.

The Macmillan Mobile Information and Support Service spent August 15 parked up at the town's Tesco, in Cangle Road, offering advice and information to those who dropped by between 10am and 4pm.

The service visited more than 58,000 people across the country last year in a bid to make sure no one faces cancer alone.

Cancer Information and Support Specialist Nicola McCloud said: "This was our mobile service's first visit to Haverhill – it was great to be able to connect with the local community and offer free specialist information."

"There are currently 27,000 people across Suffolk living with or beyond cancer, and this figure is set to more than double by 2030. Macmillan's aim is to be there for everyone affected by cancer, so that no one has to face cancer alone in Haverhill and across the country."

Club celebrates Olympic funding

GYMNASTS across Haverhill will feel the benefit of Olympic legacy funding after their club received £150,000.

Haverhill Gymnastics Club are planning to use the donation towards a new building and meeting centre, to be located within the grounds of Samuel Ward Academy, on Chalkstone Way.

The money was gifted to the club from Sport England's Inspired Facilities Olympic and Paralympic fund. They are one of 1,300 chosen beneficiaries so far.

Haverhill Town Council have pledged their support to the local club by donating £25,000 – and the group of gymnasts are planning their own fundraising.

The team needs an estimated £620,000 to build the new centre. Club vice chairman David Bovis thanked Sport England, the town council and Samuel Ward for their contributions to make the project possible.

DEBRA FOX

He said: "A new facility will provide our current gymnasts the extra time they need to take their sport to the next level and regular training spaces for more than 700 children in total."

"We have some work to do to raise the balance of the £620K project, but we're on the right path and with continued effort and support from the local community, we will be moving in next spring as planned."

The club, which currently meets at Haverhill Leisure Centre, has around 260 members and a long waiting list of pupils.

As well as providing an estimated eight to 10 sessions a day for members, the new centre will invite gymnasts of all ages from the area to use the facilities.

Principal of Samuel Ward Academy Howard Lay has praised the partnership, hailing it as a way to help local gymnasts improve and rise to success at a national level.

He said: "A strong, committed and determined working relationship between the academy and Haverhill Gymnastics Club is realising the vision for outstanding facilities for school and community use."

Sport England revealed they are extending Inspired Facilities bids until 2017 and have £40 million of funding to invest. You can apply for the next round from October 21. Visit www.sportengland.org/inspiredfacilities

New help sessions for carers

UNPAID carers in Haverhill can now find out more about help and services available.

Suffolk Family Carers – a charity supporting unpaid family carers in the county – is aiming to work with the 3,000 family carers in Haverhill and educate them on getting the support they need.

Emily Meadows has been appointed by West Suffolk Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) to work in partnership with GPs in West Suffolk to make unpaid carers aware of their rights.

She said: "Many individuals do not recognise themselves as a family carer. They may be a spouse, partner, relative, friend or neighbour providing unpaid care and support without realising that help is available."

The charity hold monthly information sessions and other events for unpaid carers, as well as regional clubs for those acting as young carers.

A family carers information session will be held at Christmas Maltings Surgery, on Camps Road, Haverhill, between 11am and 2pm on Thursday, September 5.

No appointment is necessary.

Call Suffolk Family Carers information line on 0844 225 3099 or 01473 835477 and visit www.suffolkfamilycarers.org.

Back to the drawing board...

When Robin Mackney was made redundant at the start of this year, he knew exactly what he was going to do next. Just a few months later the new artist has already held his first exhibition, and is working on an intricate project featuring skylines. He shows Louise Martin his work.

WITH shoulders hunched over his desk and his eyes hovering intently above a sheet of A3, Robin Mackney is hard at work. "I can only work for two hours at a time because I end up really close to the paper," says the 27-year-old. "I'm quite tall as well, so every now and then I need to stand up and step back from it."

One look at Robin's intricate and powerful works and it's easy to understand why the artist from Hartford, near Huntingdon, can only work for the short time slot. Using just a black, fine art pen, Robin creates agonisingly detailed drawings – and his latest project features a range of complex city skylines.

Robin's passion for art started at a young age but he admits in his teenage years he was torn between sport and art. "When I was at school I used to play for Cambridge City but by the time I got to sixth form I had to make a decision between the two as a profession and I chose art and design and technology."

Robin studied A-levels in his favourite subjects at St Peter's School in Huntingdon and continued to play for the Cambridge team. Despite knowing it was art that he wanted to pursue in the future, when Robin was offered a year's contract to play with Rushden & Diamonds Football Club it felt like an opportunity too good to refuse and he took a gap year before university. But shortly before he was due to sign his one-year contract, Robin was injured and, despite making a full recovery, his professional footballing days were over.

Following his degree in interior architecture at Lincoln University, Robin had high hopes of securing a job with a London-based design practice. But when the recession hit and hugely affected his chosen industry, he had to look elsewhere. "I got a job as an account manager," explains Robin. "I was honest and told them my plan and that I would only be there for three months as I wanted to follow my career... four years later I was still there."

But in January this year, the opportunity for voluntary redundancy arose – and Robin decided the time was right to launch his own art business selling his detailed works.

Called REWM (which stands for Robin Edward William Mackney), Robin put a small business plan together and decided he would stick with his monochrome style and, to begin with, would work on A3 paper. "I'm learning every step of the way but there is so much to think about," says Robin. "Simple things like where you put your signature is such an important detail; and how you number it."

Robin began producing commissions of people's houses and street scenes which, with the help of Facebook, was a positive start to his business. But it's his latest project - Skyline - which is proving to be most successful. "When you do a drawing of someone's house then it's only going to be a one-off as people can't relate to it," says Robin. "I did a London scene which was on all my fliers and the response from that was amazing."

The reimagined skyline scenes, which so far include London, Brighton and New York, are extremely impressive. Each one starts out as a pencil outline, which is created from Robin's sketches, photographs and a lot of time spent researching Google images, and then the detail is filled in freehand using pen. "The Brighton scene is particularly detailed and took about 45 hours in total," says Robin. "My friend gave me a tour of Brighton which was fantastic as she pulled out places like the old cinema, which I would never have thought to put in it," he adds. "They're all 2D flat drawings which again links back to the architectural process that I went through at university."

Currently working in black pen only, Robin says this will continue to be his signature medium and so far he has always drawn flat, at his desk, which has taken up residence in his parents' dining room. "The dinner table's been moved to one side so it's not ideal," laughs Robin. "The plan is to rent a studio space once I'm more established."

Robin hopes to include between 15-20 scenes in Skyline which will be a combination of well known cities from around the world as well as locations closer to home such as Lincoln, Margate and, of course, Cambridge. "I want to be able to do the full exhibition next year," says Robin. "The cities that I've picked out are those that I've been lucky enough to travel to, so they're fairly personal to me, but at the same time I've tried to capture something that's popular that people can relate to."

Robin will be exhibiting his work, including scenes from Skyline, at the Corn Exchange in St Ives on Saturday, August 24, from 10am-4pm. For more information visit reum.co.uk.

The Bell

Ringling the changes

THE BELL pub on Haverhill's High Street has undergone a transformation. Since new owner Mickey and manageress Claire took over last December, the welcoming hostelry has brought in an enticing new Steak House menu, and has now also introduced Sky Sports, transforming it into a Sports Bar.

With special promotions planned for big sporting events, that can now be enjoyed on the new large screens, the pub will also be laying on food at half time for the coming season's big football matches.

But if that all sounds a bit blokey, don't worry. Feedback to staff has indicated that this is a pub that women, too, now feel comfortable and happy to visit. And events like the forthcoming MacMillan Coffee Morning on September 29, when the pub will open from 8.30am, just reinforce this warm and friendly atmosphere.

Visit The Bell's facebook page by searching for "The Bell Steakhouse and Grill" to find out more about this great Haverhill destination. Or why not just drop in? Whether you want to enjoy a meal, watch the big match or just catch up with friends over a drink, The Bell is the ideal place to be.

Hotel manager escapes jail term for fraud

AN HOTEL deputy manager who scammed his establishment out of more than £5,000 has escaped serving time in jail.

Taro Rawles, 41, of Vetch Walk, Haverhill, was sentenced to six months suspended for two years at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday, August 9.

The 41-year-old was also ordered to complete unpaid community service and pay court costs.

Rawles, who was the manager of the Days Inn, on Phoenix Road, Haverhill, pleaded guilty to the fraud in June this year.

DEBRA FOX

He admitted to using the hotel's cash to pay off his own credit card.

A Crown Prosecution Service spokesman said the offences happened between February 2012 and March 2013.

They said: "Taro Rawles committed fraud in that he dishonestly intended thereby to make a gain for himself by abusing his position as deputy hotel manager, in which he was expected to safeguard or not take against the financial interests of the Days Inn hotel, by refunding £5,051.57 worth of transactions to his personal credit card."

Rawles will next appear at Chelmsford Crown Court in October.

It will be decided then how he will compensate the hotel for its loss.

Animal magic and family fun at nursery party

A NURSERY invited the whole family along for a day of fun to celebrate their first anniversary.

Lilypads Nursery and Pre-School on Burton End, Haverhill, had a fantastic turn out for their event, which offered a packed morning of donkey rides, a bouncy castle, cake decorating, face painting, and pets corner.

Co-owners Hayley Peacock and Dawn Edwards said: "We have had such high demand for childcare places since opening last year and wish to thank everyone who has supported us including all staff and parents." The women also said they were proud of their first year.

Quilts and coffee

MEMBERS of Patchwork Friends are joining forces in a charity day.

They will combine displays of quilts, works in progress and a sales table with coffee and cake stalls to try to raise as much as they can for the Essex Air Ambulance.

Entry to the event is free but donations are welcome.

It takes place on October 19 at Ridgewell Village Hall from 10am until 3pm.

Guidance from West Suffolk College

MANY young people need to rethink their next step in education after receiving their exam results. West Suffolk College will be holding Advice and Guidance Days on Wednesday, August 28, from 10am to 7pm, Saturday, August 31, from 9.30am to 12 noon and Monday, September 2, from 10am to 7pm to help young people choose their options.

The college has places available on a number of courses and it is not too late to enrol. You can also drop in on any weekday between 9.00am and 4.30pm to speak to Information Centre staff in the new Gateway building. The college still has vacancies on some courses, including Hospitality, Business, Hairdressing and Computing. Places are available on part-time courses in subjects as diverse as Art and Design or Construction and Building Services, Accounting or Engineering. The college also offers GCSEs in Biology, English and Maths. UCS Bury St Edmunds, located on the site of West Suffolk College, offers work-related Foundation degrees and full honours degrees. Return to Study and Access to Higher Education courses, for mature students who are considering academic study, are also available. Access courses in Health and Social Care, Law, Engineering, Childcare, Literature, History and Social Science are available. 24+ Advanced Learning Loans may be available for mature students starting courses or apprenticeships in September. These loans are like those which fund university courses, but for the further education sector. # Could you be a good neighbour and help your local hospice?

ADVERTISING FEATURE

ST NICHOLAS Hospice Care is appealing for volunteers to come forward as part of their Hospice Neighbours Scheme.

The Hospice is currently also looking for volunteer co-ordinators for the Haverhill area.

The Hospice Neighbours service aims to help those with life-shortening illness and their families by sending volunteers – or 'neighbours' – to help with practical support and companionship.

The service aims to provide simple but compassionate support via trained volunteers, who make a big difference to individuals and their families living with dying.

If you like the idea of being a Hospice Neighbour but also enjoy helping to organise others, then the role of Volunteer Co-ordinator could be for you. Utilising your local knowledge, it would be your role to match the needs of people to the skills and availability of your volunteer team.

Kay Newman, Hospice Neighbours Co-ordinator, said: "Hospice Neighbours improve the health and well-being of terminally ill patients by providing practical support, friendship and reducing carer exhaustion.

"By stripping away the smaller tasks they allow families to do what they want to do most – spend time with and care for their loved ones at home."

A flexible commitment will be needed from the co-ordinator as during the set up stage it is anticipated they will ask for more of your time than when the scheme is up and running.

The Hospice will provide you with all the training, skills and IT equipment you will need and fully support you all the way.

GOOD NEIGHBOURS: Hospice Neighbour Tandi Gredley and patient Joyce Peachey

If you are not sure about being a volunteer co-ordinator, they always welcome enquiries from people who are interested in being a Hospice Neighbour too.

If you would like a volunteer application pack or an informal chat please contact Kay Newman on (01284) 766418 or email kay.newman@stnh.org.uk.

There is a real need for more volunteer co-ordinators in the Haverhill area, so if you think that you have the skills and energy to make a real difference in your community, please do get in touch.

For more information about Hospice Neighbours or about St Nicholas Hospice Care, go to stnicholashospice.org.uk.

Hospice Neighbours Co-ordinators

Can you spare some time to help out in your local community?

At St Nicholas Hospice Care we have a dedicated team of volunteer Hospice Neighbours offering companionship and practical support with important, everyday tasks to local people living with a life-shortening illness.

We need Volunteer Co-ordinators to help organise a team of Hospice Neighbours in Haverhill.

"It's a demanding role, but a hugely rewarding one."

the GUIDE

Autumn's coming

It's time to face it – summer is all but over. But there's plenty to look forward to, as The Guide helps you plan your autumn entertainment by cherry-picking some of the best the Cambridge Corn Exchange has to offer ....

Laura Marling (pictured inset)

ARMED with her acoustic guitar and an ethereal voice, singer-song writer and elfin folkster Laura Marling is rather good.

Since her wonderful 2007 debut, the winsome Alas, I Cannot Swim (haunting and beautiful, it's a shame the too-cool Laura tends to steer clear of performing her earliest tracks live these days), the 23-year-old is now on her fourth album, Once I was an Eagle. I Speak Because I Can and A Creature I Don't Know make up the intervening albums, which helped propel her to two Mercury Music Prize Nominations and a Brit Award for Best Female Artist in 2011.

Tempting, no?

• Cambridge Corn Exchange, Friday, September 27. Contact (01223) 357851 / www.cornex.co.uk

Bastille

BASTILLE, an alt-rock four-some led by scruffy haired singer-songwriter Dan Smith, has had a pretty hectic year involving a debut Number 1 album and a summer of festivals. "Whirlwind" is a funny word that we get thrown at us quite a lot," Dan told The Guide earlier this year. "I guess it's quite hard to articulate what this year's been like because it's – this sounds like a really boring way of describing it – but we've just been so busy. It's quite weird to acknowledge." The gig's sold out but it's probably worth hanging around outside the Corn Exchange just for a dance.

• Cambridge Corn Exchange, Saturday, October 12. Contact (01223) 357851 / www.cornex.co.uk

Blue

SO, the Blue boys are officially back. The R'n'B/pop foursome – Antony Costa, Duncan James, Lee Ryan and Simon Webbe – shot to fame in the early noughties with catchy saccharine tracks like One Love, Sorry Seems to be the Hardest Word (with Elton John!) and Signed, Sealed, Delivered, I'm Yours. Hitting rocky times in 2005, they split before reforming in 2011 for Eurovision. ... Somehow it wasn't as disastrous as you might expect.

Now – on the back of ITV2's The Big Reunion show – the lads are apparently better than ever. Find out if the rumours are true.

• Cambridge Corn Exchange, Sunday, November 3. Contact (01223) 357851 / www.cornex.co.uk

KT Tunstall

Folky singer-songwriter KT Tunstall – Scottish songstress and guitarist – shot to fame with her debut album Eye to the Telescope in 2004 (remember Black Horse and a Cherry Tree?), and is currently touring with her fourth studio album, Invisible Empire // Crescent Moon. Striking and soulful the 37-year-old has a trio of Brit Award nominations to her name, plus a win, and she just headlined the Cambridge Folk Festival (it was said to be amazing). How can you not be a fan?

Measure for Measure

TECHNICALLY a comedy, Shakespeare's Measure for Measure is more of a problem play than a laugh-out-loud funny piece.

Still, this production (right), by Cambridge American Stage Tour (CAST), slickly takes the citizens of Vienna – overrun by shadiness and the sex trade – and gives it a modern gloss. The law is being ignored, the spiteful Angelo brutally takes control (fear and oppressions his tools), but falls for the enchanting Isabella – sister of imprisoned Claudio – and suddenly it seems the rules no longer apply to everyone. . .

The Producers

ALL singing, all dancing, all greedy – that's The Producers for you. It's won 12 Tony Awards and nails hysterical slapstick. Performed by Cambridge Stagehands: the premise? Broadway producer Max Bialystock and his accountant Leo Bloom are set to make a fortune by raising funds for a Broadway show so terrible it will flop on opening night, leaving them to run off with the investors' cash. You can imagine it won't quite go to plan.

The Mousetrap

IT opened in 1952 and has been whirring towards becoming the longest running show in the world of theatre ever since. Now celebrating its 60th anniversary, Agatha Christie's The Mousetrap is the ultimate murder mystery. If you haven't seen it before (where have you been?), it involves a murder, a country house and a host of suspicious guests – as all good murder mysteries do. There's a reason it's been running for so long – prepare to be thrilled, and look out for the twist!

The History Boys

YOU'VE probably seen the film, but now Alan Bennett's award-winning comic masterpiece will be on stage at the ADC for the first time. Put together by the Cambridge University Amateur Dramatic Club (CUADC), they say it's: "Performed by people on the other side of the Oxbridge application game, The History Boys prompts us to question whether it was worth it after all." Eight students are whipped into Oxbridge shape by supply teacher Irwin, but their general studies teacher has bigger plans than that. Definitely a chance to reminisce about your school days.

Frost/Nixon

ADAPTED as a film in 2008, this is a show bound up in political and journalistic tension, as well as a battle of wits. The Dryden Society troupe explore the clash between Richard Nixon who received a full pardon from Gerald Ford over his involvement in the Watergate scandal, and British talk-show host David Frost (who aspires to make him fall to pieces). Twelve interviews, no scripts, and no prior knowledge of the question – who knows what might happen.

The Duck House

GORDON Brown's Government is falling apart, A General Election is looming and Labour backbencher Robert Houston will go to any lengths to save his skin, sorry, seat. Especially when the expenses scandal breaks. . . receipt stricken Robert is in a bit of a situation. A brand new comedy from Dan Patterson, Ben Miller, left (of The Armstrong and Miller Show) stars. Let's see if it will have you rolling in the aisles.

news from

pumping spectacle that we would expect from Krypton's greatest son.

■ Dates for the diary include THE TWYLIGHT SHADOWS returning to us on Saturday September 7 with classic Cliff Richard and The Shadows hits from 8pm. On Wednesday September 25 at 7.30pm, WE WILL BE FREE is a new drama set in 1834 about the Tolpuddle Martyrs that follows the extraordinary true story of George and Betsy Loveless. He was a Methodist preacher and the leader of the six Dorset shire farm labourers who were tried, convicted and condemned to transportation for swearing a secret oath and forming a union to fight against a succession of wage cuts inflicted by the local landowner, and finally Shakespeare's OTHELLO live from the National Theatre on Thursday September 26 from 7pm.

film of the week

ELYSIUM

certificate 15, 1h49m

ACCORDING to a recent report by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, the gap between rich and poor in industrialised nations is accelerating.

Fast-forward a century to the setting of Neill Blomkamp's Elysium and it seems highly plausible the wealth divide will be so vast that only the privileged few will entertain the possibility of colonising new worlds while the rest of us scabble for scraps of comfort in the dirt of a dying planet.

Blomkamp painted a bleak vision of the future in his superb debut, District 9, set in the slums of Johannesburg. His follow-up is even more grim, imagining two distinct classes whose chances of survival are directly linked to their bank balance.

The year is 2154. While most of the population lives in squalor on the surface of Earth, the wealthy inhabit a state-of-the-art space station called Elysium governed by President Patel (Faran Tahir) and his non-sensence secretary of defence, Delacourt (Jodie Foster). She is charged with ensuring that refugee ships from Earth do not land on Elysium to take advantage of medical bays installed in every home.

Back in the slums on terra firma, factory worker Max DeCosta (Matt Damon) grafts long hours for meagre pay. When he is involved in an industrial accident resulting in exposure to dangerous levels of radiation, he knows his only hope is to breach Elysium's defences so he can access a medical bay and banish the cancer that is ravaging his system.

Local criminal Spider (Wagner Moura) agrees to help if Max will help to steal secrets from the mind of John Carlyle (William Fichtner), chief executive of the corporation responsible for constructing Elysium. A deal is struck and Max is fitted with an exoskeleton, hardwired into his brain, to bolster his strength and allow a data download from Carlyle's mind.

However, the path to Elysium is littered with obstacles, not least Delacourt's favourite contract killer – a sadistic mercenary called Kruger (Sharlto Copley).

Although it lacks the depth of District 9, Elysium is an entertaining yarn which unfolds at a brisk pace. Action sequences are slickly orchestrated and Blomkamp brings together all of the surviving characters for a rousing slam-bang finale, that proves one brave man can make a difference.

Season for colour

COMING back recently from a break in the beautiful region of Tuscany, Italy, where fields of bright sunflowers contrast with green rolling hills, vineyards and postcard-perfect farmhouses, I felt pretty depressed – until I looked into my garden, and saw a riot of colour in my late-summer border.

If you plant carefully, you too could return from holiday to find exciting hues of vibrant reds, burnt oranges and sizzling yellows intermingled with wafting ornamental grasses, front-of-border sedums and palm-sized lily blooms in the perennial border.

In my own garden, repeat plantings of clumps of bright red crocosmia 'Lucifer', whose sword-like leaves and spikes of flowers provide both colour and architectural value, stand alongside burnt orange Helenium 'Moerheim Beauty', providing a dazzling clash of colours, the daisy-like flowers of the heleniums sometimes lasting into autumn.

Other great late-summer perennials include rudbeckias, also known as coneflowers because their showy, yellow petals hang down, making the dark central cone prominent.

by Hannah Stephenson

The daisy-like flowers are attractive to bees and the plants, whose heights range from 60cm (2ft) to 180cm (6ft) depending on variety, suit most border situations, although taller varieties may need staking.

I am also a great fan of sedums in the flower border, extending seasonal interest well into the autumn. They are fairly low-growing so do well at the front of the border and are long lasting, their pale green, succulent foliage appearing in spring and early summer followed by flowers in late summer in shades of pink, red and yellow.

Sedums are also known as ice plants because if you touch them on a warm day the leaves feel cool.

Add a touch of elegance to your border with kaffir lilies, which again will look fine at the front of a border but need a sheltered, sunny spot.

They are hardy in most areas, but in colder regions make sure you cover them with a thick winter mulch or grow them in a pot under glass. Pink-flowered varieties complement silver foliage plants well.

COLOURFUL: clumps of crocosmia

I have a deep purple buddleia which has just come into flower at the back of the border and whose blooms again contrast well with the oranges and red hues of late summer. If you give this colourful shrub a good prune in spring it will come back stronger than ever year after year – mine grows to more than 3m (10ft) in a season, producing rich deep purple blooms through to autumn.

Of course, no late summer garden would be complete without at least a smattering of dahlias, which were once perceived as vulgar but have now become more accepted among many gardeners who plant striking deep coloured varieties such as the dark red D. 'Kenora Macop-B' alongside ornamental grasses such as Stipa gigantea.

I haven't even mentioned the many huge lilies which are now in full flower in the garden, or the feathery astilbes which will brighten up a moist, lightly shaded spot in late summer, or the vivid blue agapanthus 'Headbourne Hybrids' which look fabulous in pots throughout August and September.

For me, late summer can provide a wealth of sizzling colour which can at times overshadow some of those flowers which flourished in our so-called 'flaming' June.

BMW i3 wins top green car award

NEXT GREEN CAR has announced the winners of the Next Green Car Awards 2013, the most scientifically-based Green Car Awards in the UK.

Next Green Car has made awards across eight vehicle categories including the 'Next Generation' Award, which includes new technology models close to market launch.

The eight winners are selected from shortlists of 26 of the UK's greenest new cars of 2013, all selected for their environmental Green Car Rating (GCR), level of innovation, value, drive experience and design.

As noted by Dr Ben Lane, managing editor of Next Green Car: "The 2013 winners reflect two key elements underlying current green car development:

drive-train electrification and continuing improvements in fuel efficiency.

"While all the winners are highly distinctive in the innovations they employ, they all excel at using new technologies to enhance the driver experience."

The winners of the Next Car Awards 2013 are as follows:

SUPERMINI AWARD 2013

WINNER: BMW i3 electric

CO2: 0g/km

NGC verdict: "The BMW i3 is set to change what we expect and demand of an electric urban vehicle; one that maximises electrification, connectivity, quality and driving performance."

Commended: Renault Clio 1.5

dCi Start-Stop: CO2: 83g/km

SMALL FAMILY AWARD 2013

WINNER: Nissan LEAF electric

[2013]

CO2: 0 g/km

NGC verdict: "A high quality family electric vehicle, the new LEAF offers best-in-class range and versatility."

Commended: Volkswagen Golf 1.6 TDI BlueMotion: CO2: 85g/km

LARGE FAMILY AWARD 2013

WINNER: Volvo V60 Plug-in Hybrid

CO2: 49g/km

NGC verdict: "Ticks all the boxes for a high quality, well-built, efficient family car for the here and now; but more importantly also looks to the future with its innovation and vision."

Commended: Skoda Octavia

1.6 TDI: CO2: 99g/km

FAMILY ESTATE AWARD 2013

WINNER: Volkswagen Golf Estate 1.6 TDI BlueMotion

CO2: 87g/km

NGC Verdict: "The first full BlueMotion VW Golf Estate with all the technological innovation that the brand embodies delivers fantastic fuel economy and a superior drive experience."

Commended: Toyota Auris Touring Sports Hybrid 1.8 VVT-i: CO2: 85g/km

MPV AWARD 2013

WINNER: Citroen C4 Picasso 1.6 e-HDi

CO2: 98g/km

NGC verdict: "The new Citroen C4 Picasso not only offers families an attractive, responsive, economical compact MPV but also should be congratulated for

TOP CHOICE: The BMW i3 will go on sale in the UK in November being the first conventionally-powered MPV to break through the 100g CO2/km barrier."

Commended: Nissan Note 1.2 DiG-S: CO2: 99g/km

CROSSOVER AWARD 2013

WINNER: Captur 1.5 dCi Start-Stop

CO2: 95g/km

NGC verdict: "Style-conscious, economical to run and affordable with excellent green credentials, the Captur is set to be the next big thing in the world of urban crossovers."

Commended: Peugeot 2008 1.6 e-HDi Start-Stop: CO2: 98g/km

EXECUTIVE AWARD 2013

WINNER: Tesla Model S electric

CO2: 0g/km

NGC verdict: "The pin-up of the electric vehicle world, the Tesla Model S combines a ladle-full of executive gadgeted luxury with a futuristic electric driving experience."

Commended: Lexus IS 300h Hybrid: CO2: 99g/km

NEXT GENERATION AWARD 2013

WINNER: Volkswagen e-Up!

Electric

CO2: 0g/km

NGC verdict: "A high quality but affordable electric city car, the all new e-Up! offers compact comfort with zero emissions. With VW's brand and backing, the e-Up! could be the catalyst for a step-change in urban electric car adoption."

Commended: Audi A3 Sportback e-tron plug-in hybrid: CO2: 35g/km

General Vacancies

RECRUITMENT ACCOUNT MANAGER
Newmarket, Suffolk
£28,000 - £32,000 per annum, OTE

We have an opportunity for a Recruitment Account Manager. The role will be based on site and the successful applicant will take full responsibility for managing the On Site team and delivering a high level of customer service to our client and temporary workers.

It is essential that you have a proven track record within management, ideally with some experience within the recruitment sector. It is also essential that you have good IT skills (word, excel, powerpoint) and experience in producing and presenting KPI's and reports.

The successful candidate will have excellent organisational skills and be a competent and confident communicator at all levels. We are looking for someone who is an experienced multi tasker and delegator and who can deal with and resolve issues in a prompt and professional manner, with a 'can do' attitude.

To apply, please email your CV together with a covering letter to andrew@onecollrecruitment.co.uk. Should you require further information telephone 07925 824323. Closing date Monday 2nd September 2013.

IMPERIAL WAR MUSEUMS

With over 600 staff, two million visitors a year and major attractions at five branches (IWM London, IWM North, IWM Duxford, Churchill War Rooms and HMS Belfast). IWM is proud of its reputation as a forward thinking group of museums.

Applications are invited for Learning Officers (casual) to support the Department for Learning at IWM Duxford on a fee paid basis. We are looking for excellent communicators to deliver History and/or Science and Technology talks and workshops to primary and/or secondary groups. A degree or equivalent professional qualification and a minimum of two years teaching experience in a school or museum setting is required.

Applications are also invited for Explainers to deliver guided tours for the general visitor, pre-booked youth groups and military personnel and to facilitate handling sessions for families during school holidays in the American Air Museum. This is an 18 month contract and will average 2 days per week (including weekends on a rota). You must be able to communicate with a wide range of people from different backgrounds and ages.

A knowledge and interest in twentieth century history would be an advantage for both posts.

For full job descriptions and application forms visit www.iwm.org.uk
Closing date for applications for both posts is Sunday 1 September.

Imperial War Museums are committed to a policy of Equal Opportunities.

Mixed Open attracted a talented field

MORE than 100 competitors took part in Haverhill Golf Club's Mixed Open with Andrew and Jan Bedford the overall winners.

The pair, from The Essex, finished the event with 43 points.

Michael and Mary Blasby from Bury were second with 42 on countback while Keith and Gill Otter from Channels finished third, also on 42 points.

The ladies' nearest the pin prize for the eighth hole went to Susan Cullingham from Rushmere and the men's nearest the pin on the 16th was won by Ron Keen from Harwich & Dovercourt.

Michael and Joan Cillison from King's Lynn posted the best front nine score with 21 points on countback and the best back nine score was posted by Roger and Mary Turner from Gosfield with 22.

At the end of the event, the prizes were presented by club captain Gordon Price and lady vice captain Theresa Spittle.

■ Haverhill and Ipswich Golf Club contested their Tolly semi-final at Bury Golf Club on Sunday August 18 with the former losing out by just one hole.

Haverhill led after the morning matches but Ipswich clawed back the deficit in the afternoon and a missed five-foot putt meant Haverhill's campaign came to an end by just one hole.

■ The Ladies' Midweek stableford was a closely contested affair with the top three places decided on countback.

Sally Price clinched victory with a score of 33 points. Jackie Condon was second and Mary Sail third, both also with 33 points.

Carol Day was the clear winner of the Ladies' Saturday stableford with 31 points. Lady captain Sheila Price was second on 29 and Jackie Condon third on 29.

Mixed success: The prize winners at Haverhill Golf Club's Mixed Open.

■ Lyn Fish continued her good recent form by winning the Ladies Matchplay Shield competition, an event she previously won in 2010.

Fish, who plays off a handicap of 21, was drawn against Sally Price, who plays a handicap of 25, in the final. The match was very close and it was not until the 17th hole that Fish managed to go 1up. She also went onto win the 18th and claim the match 2up.

■ Haverhill junior Joshua Hulyer enjoyed a successful day when he competed in the Felixstowe Ferry Junior Open.

Hulyer won the stableford competition with 35 points, two ahead of runner-up Matt Bury from Felixstowe Golf Club.

■ Haverhill Golf Club's social committee invited non golfers to take part in their Foxes & Rabbits competition. The format involved a golfer (fox) playing shots to the green and a non golfer (rabbit) putting.

The winning team were Dave Ross and Dot Ross with a combined score of 39. The winning 'fox' was Jade Wilkins with a score of 18 and the winning 'rabbit' was Sophia Lunness with 20 putts.

Wet: The weather made for a frustrating weekend for Gary Paffett at the Nurburgring as he finished 17th.

Weather woes frustrate Paffett

GARY Paffett suffered a frustrating weekend at the Nurburgring as he lost significant ground on his DTM championship rivals.

The Haverhill driver finished in 17th place after a disappointing race that saw him lose valuable time in the pits due to tyre changes needed to cope with changeable conditions.

Paffett qualified in fifth and with rain scheduled to make an appearance in the race, he opted to start on slick tyres along with the rest of the field, but with the harder compound.

As predicted, the rain started to come down early in the race and those on the softer compound were running faster. When pits opened, the track was starting to dry so Paffett's team decided to stick with slicks but to switch to the softer compound.

The decision backfired, however, as just a few laps later the rain came down again and Paffett was forced to pit again for wet tyres.

He started driving competitively, but 10 laps later the track started drying and once again he was back in the pits for slick tyres resulting in him re-joining the race a lap down.

Paffett set the third fastest lap time in his Euronics Mercedes AMG C-Coupe but he could not make up any positions and finished 17th.

He sits sixth in the championship with 57 points, 49 behind leader Mike Rockenfeller.

Mercedes' Robert Wickens won the race with Christian Vietoris third.

"It was a really frustrating weekend," said Paffett. "We had a competitive car and that was shown by my team-mates Robert (Wickens) and Christian (Vietoris) getting podium places."

"It's a shame because I was only 37 points behind the championship leader coming into this race but being 49 points behind now, with only 75 left, makes it hard to challenge for the championship."

Paffett resumes his DTM campaign at Oschersleben, on September 14 and 15.

On the ball: Dan Jeffrey in action for Haverhill Rovers against Eton Manor.

Rovers hit back to secure FA Cup win

HAVERHILL Rovers recovered from a dreadful start to beat Eton Manor 3-1 in the extra-preliminary round of the FA Cup.

The visitors scored after less than a minute to suggest the possibility of a cup upset but two penalties and a further goal late on in the match put Haverhill through to the next round where they will face Needham Market.

Eton Manor took a surprise lead out of nothing after just 52 seconds.

The home defence stood still as Ashley Wackers, with his back to goal, flicked the ball over his shoulder and fired out of reach of Haverhill keeper Jamie Greygoose and into the bottom left corner.

Rovers eventually equalised in the 38th minute when Dan Cornwell turned sharply in the box and as defender Paul Inkpen left his foot in he brought the striker down for a penalty.

Cornwell calmly picked himself up and fired the spot-kick home.

Cornwell added a second penalty for Haverhill in the 66th minute after an Eton Manor defender foolishly caught the ball in mid-air and Rovers now led 2-1.

There were some nervous moments throughout the second half but the win was sealed in the 86th minute.

Jack Wilkinson's shot from an acute angle was clawed away by Eton Manor keeper Simon Gallagher but substitute Richard Gammon was on hand to score with an unmarked header.

"It's early days but I'm pleased with how we've started the season," said Rovers boss Dean Greygoose.

Spot on: Dan Cornwell scored two penalties for Haverhill.

Decisive: Harry O'Connor scored the winner against Walden.

O'Connor the hero in Borough victory

HARRY O'Connor scored the only goal as Haverhill Borough came away from Saffron Walden Town with a 1-0 win in the Thurlow Nunn League, First Division on Tuesday.

Borough's first chance on goal came in the 10th minute but a minute later O'Connor scored what proved to be the winner when he headed home Ben Bradley's free-kick.

Walden missed a penalty and piled on the pressure in the second half but Liam Cutts made two good saves to ensure Haverhill won.

A stoppage time equaliser denied Borough all three points on Saturday as they had to settle for a 1-1 draw at Dereham Town Reserves.

It was an unfortunate end to a game that Borough had controlled in large periods. Callum Harrison and Luke Strutton both went close with the latter hitting the bar in the 36th minute.

Dereham missed a penalty in the 53rd minute before the deadlock was broken in the 71st minute when Anthony Fernandez fired home.

Borough were denied a second when Paul Hunt had a goal disallowed for offside and Borough were then denied victory by Dereham's late equaliser.
